February, 2009

Thank you to FMCA Kellie Etherson, Shelly Redovan and Mark Latham for coordinating the 2009 FMCA Aerial Short Course. We were privileged to host the USAF Reserve spray wing class from the Youngstown Air Force Base for DoD category 11 (Aerial Spray) certification. Approximately 150 attendees from the Air Force, Navy, LCMCD pilots and staff were instructed by Major Karl Haagsma and Major Mark Breidenbaugh.

“Day of Discovery” will be held Jan. 31st at Centennial Park. All Lee County School students will be judged on their science projects. Neil Wilkinson, Brian Murphy and Courtney Satkoski will be judging and participating in our mosquito display section. Shelly Redovan and Brian Murphy will review the 1st place scholarship award. Scott Bates will fly our helicopter to the site and answer questions. (He does a great job.) Don Claytor will be the representative from LCMCD to answer mosquito questions.

REMINDER: February 17th is the date for the Hazardous Materials Spill Response refresher class to be held in the Bailey Bldg. from 7:30 am to 4 pm.

As always, thanks to our crew who fed our hungry visitors and students.

Neil Wilkinson, Brian Murphy and Courtney Satkoski wish to thank Mr. Gale, Shelly Redovan, Robert Hedrick, Mike Hein, Chuck Herzog, Johnnie Jeter, Paul Morgan, Bill Stephens, Tommy Stewart, Judy Thomas, Michael Thomas and Sonny Williams for their help with the Environmental Education & Aquatic Systems/ Mosquito Education move. Their department moved from the Nature Center to the Lee County Public Education Center on Colonial Blvd. Our group helped them move over 2,800 sq. ft. of supplies and heavy equipment. In their words, “ we couldn’t have done this move alone.”
